

The KeyWay

President's Corner

A nice local cultural interlude at Howick Little Theatre's performance of "Real Estate" was enjoyed by all the Rotarians and their many friends that attended. Our thanks once again to the Fellowship Committee! The AGM is coming up in a couple of weeks and the Nominating Committee will be meeting shortly to review nominations. Apart from the usual shoulder tapping that occurs, there is provision for individual members to nominate office holders, provided that these are received by the Secretary one week prior to the AGM. If you wish to do so please ensure your nominee endorses their consent. The Yacht Regatta is our next big event and, as project leader, John Richardson ably points out the critical selling period is right now! So put your "selling hats" on and ask a neighbor, friend or business colleague to buy a boat, or form a group to buy one ,or even buy one yourself! It is a very relaxing and enjoyable day. Andy Dalton, Chief Executive of the Auckland Rugby Union, is our guest speaker next week, which should make for an interesting night. This is an ideal opportunity to bring along a prospective member and/or a partner who is interested in knowing what is happening in the world of rugby. He may even be able to give us the "real oil" on what is happening with Eden Park for the World Cup, rather than reading the media gossip!

20th Nov. Andy Dalton RWC

Have a Good Week!
Rob

Secretary's Notes

I was unable to attend the Theatre evening this week, owing to my presence being required at another Theatre event, the gala opening of the stage show 'Henry," running for an extended three night season at Bucklands Beach Intermediate School. This show, very loosely based on the story of Henry VIII, opened to a near sell out crowd. (With 11 – 13 year olds playing, you can understand how the show had to be somewhat adapted from the original story.) I am pleased to report that no heads were lost during the performance! The school orchestra and a large choir supported the cast of some 60 or so very talented students in what was a rollicking and very humorous musical show. All in all a great night at the Theatre. Due to other commitments, the season cannot be extended and will close on Thursday evening to another sell out crowd of enthusiastic parents, grandparents and friends, who will likely give a standing ovation to all!

I trust your Theatre evening was equally enjoyable!

Board members should note that our Board meeting is to be held after Rotary next week, 20 November. Please note the change of venue from that published earlier. The meeting will now be held at the home of Ken and Maureen McIntosh, 12 Pintner Place, Howick.

Have a great week!

Ian Fox

Secretary.

Apologies for 20th

Apologies for Tuesday the 20th. Do NOT ring George Abercrombie. Preferably e-mail rotapol@ihug. Failing that, ring or fax Alasdair Maclean Ph/Fax 5345322.

Thanks
